Subject: Stoke Hill Housing Development

To whom it may concern

I hear there are plans again to build at the far end of Mincinglake Valley Park- I strongly object to this erosion of green areas within walking distance of the city centre. Without wilder green spaces in a city people will resort to driving out to the countryside and thus using cars more often. Please consider this when planning developments around a city boundaries.

I understand the need for new housing but this area has been overdeveloped for residential housing.

Yours faithfully
