Subject: Amendments to the proposed Harlequins Centre redevelopment application no. 19/1556/FUL

Dear Matthew Diamond,

Following the proposed changes to the plans for the Harlequins Centre. I am surprised that a new planning application was not required for this redevelopment, as the changes, I understand, would ordinarily have required a completely new application.

However, although substantial changes have been made to the original planning application, my original objection of 5th December, 2019 still stands. Even though a storey has been removed and a "green wall" has been put in the development still continues to have the same problems as the original proposal. In addition to the above, I refer you to my email dated 16th March 2020 regarding the problems associated with the coronavirus elements with self-isolation and social distancing which, must surely, have to be taken into account now.

Melanie Turner.
