Matt

As per my previous email, the Balloon Test is now confirmed for Thursday morning this week (as long as the weather conditions don't change significant).

The team should be on site from 9.30, with the plan to fly the balloons from about 10.00 for approximately 2 hours.

Attached are plans of the proposed locations for the balloons, which will demonstrate the different heights of the proposed buildings on the site.

Regards,

Chris Dadds

Matt

We are proposing to undertake a balloon test of the proposals for the Harlequins Centre site. The test will involve the flying of balloons on the site to demonstrate the height of proposed buildings.

The test should take place at the end of next week – hopefully Thursday 30th July. This will depend on the weather but, if the conditions are suitable, the balloons should be in place by mid-morning and will be flown for approximately 2 hours. During this time our architects will be taking photos from key viewpoints to record the heights.

Regards,

Chris Dadds
